ABSTRACT

A computer-implemented check processing system that associates sorted check image files and associated check image data with an endpoint for direct distribution to the endpoint.